MAGIC GLADIATOR WEAPONS D&D

CHAMPIONS CHALLENGE

Weapon (javelin), Very rare (requires attunement)

This finely balanced javelin is etched with shallow laurel patterns and tally marks along the shaft. When it bites into flesh, the metal rings with a clear, stadium-bright note, like a challenge heard by an unseen crowd.

Rival's Mark.

When you hit a creature with an attack using this javelin, you can mark that creature as your rival (no action required). While your rival is alive, you have advantage on attack rolls made with this javelin against your rival.

You can have only one creature marked as your rival at a time. If you mark a new creature, the previous rival's mark ends immediately.

Claim the Glory.

When your rival is reduced to 0 hit points, you gain temporary hit points equal to your proficiency bonus + your Charisma modifier (minimum of 1).

ARENA SHIELD

Armor (shield), rare (requires attunement)

This heavy, steel-banded shield bears the scars of countless duels: notched edges, worn heraldry, and a grip polished smooth by steady hands. Set into its center is a shallow “gong” plate, when it catches a blow, it rings with a sharp metallic note, as if the arena itself is counting strikes.

AC.

While holding this shield, you gain the normal +2 bonus to AC.

Arena Gong.

The shield has 3 charges and regains all expended charges daily at dawn. When you are hit by a melee attack, you can use your reaction and expend 1 charge to reduce the damage from that attack by 1d10 + your proficiency bonus.

If this reduces the damage to 0, you can immediately make one melee weapon attack against the attacker as part of the same reaction.

ARENA SHIELD

SANDSTORM CLEAVER

Weapon (greatest), very rare (requires attunement)

The blade of this greatest has a dull, grit-textured finish, as if the metal still remembers the arena floor. Each swing leaves a faint trail of dust, and every impact sounds like splitting a dry wind.

You gain a +2 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this weapon.

Sandstorm.

The greatest has 3 charges and regains all expended charges daily at dawn. As an action, you can expend 1 charge to conjure a swirling sandstorm at a point on the ground you can see within 60 feet of you. The storm has a 20-foot radius, lasts for 1 minute, and ends early if you are incapacitated or you stop wielding the greatest.

The storm's area is difficult terrain and heavily obscured for creatures other than you. You can see normally within the storm.

When a creature other than you enters the storm for the first time on a turn or starts its turn there, it must make a Dexterity saving throw ($DC = 8 + \text{your proficiency bonus} + \text{your Strength modifier}$). On a failed save, the creature takes 2d6 slashing damage, or half as much damage on a successful one.
